

FOOD TO DONATE?

WE MAKE IT EASY!

We'll pick up your donation and get it into the hands of those in need.

Midwest Food Bank Pennsylvania is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that rescues food that might otherwise end up in a landfill. We serve 200 nonprofit agency partners from our Middletown warehouse. MFB food is provided free of charge to qualifying agencies with feeding programs.

WHAT WE FACE

Currently MFB is being impacted by

- supply shortages.
- escalating transportation costs.
- Increased need.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Midwest Food Bank is looking for donated and rescued food!

We have our own fleet of trucks, including 53' semi-trailers. We can pick up product by the truckload (preferable) and the pallet, depending on the distance.

Thanks to our dedicated volunteer base, MFB can sort, relabel and repack product, including food service and bulk containers.

MIDWEST FOOD BANK IS ABLE TO ACCEPT MOST PRODUCTS

- Near-dated and post-dated items
- Excess inventory
- Dents, dings, and damaged product
- Unlabeled and mislabeled items
- Retail, food service, and bulk
- Rejected loads
- Personal care, paper products, and non-food items

Our location has a cooler and freezer providing capacity for refrigerated (perishable) and frozen food.

WHERE THE FOOD GOES

Volunteers load the vehicles of our nonprofit partner agencies.

- Food pantries
- Soup kitchens
- Homeless shelters
- Residential programs
- Child feeding programs

They place it into the hands of those in need.

HOW IT WORKS

- 1) CALL MFB and ask for Nick or Kathy
- 2) GIVE load details (weight, pallets, type, temp).
- 3) ARRANGE for load to be picked up.
- 4) KNOW you helped feed someone in need!
